Executive Summary
Executive Summary

Overall Perspectives Concerning Thomas Memorial Library

- Residents overwhelmingly report satisfaction with the Thomas Memorial Library.
  - While, overall, 9-in-10 residents reported being satisfied with the Library, over half of residents reported being “very satisfied”.
- Not surprisingly, satisfaction with the Library appears linked to heavier utilization of the facility, with those who use the Library more frequently - more than one visit per month - noting higher levels of satisfaction with the Library than residents who claim that they use the Library less frequently.
- Importantly, however, Cape Elizabeth residents – even those who do not use the Library – do believe having a library in the town is important.
  - Indeed, 8-in-10 residents feel that having a public library is important, with close to two-thirds (64%) of those polled viewing the presence of a public library in a community as “very important.”
  - Even among households where no one uses the Thomas Memorial Library, fully half reported that having a public library is important.
- When residents were asked what the Library’s most important role is in the Cape Elizabeth community, the most frequent response was that the Library’s role should be to ‘support children’s education and development.’
  - Interestingly, residents with children in the household were not significantly more likely to cite this as the Library’s most important role.
  - Approximately one-fifth of residents each cited “being an available resource for the whole community” (20%), “providing reading material, books, and other literature” (19%), and “serving as a resource center” (18%).
Executive Summary

Library Utilization

• Close to 8-in-10 (78%) residents say that at least one person in their household uses the Library, and 8-in-10 of those households use the Library at least once per month.
  – Suggesting the importance of the facility as a resource for the community’s children, roughly 9-in-10 of the households with children report that they currently take advantage of the Library.

• While a large proportion of residents claim to use the Library on a regular basis, frequency of utilization varies among the residents polled.
  – Of those who answered that someone in their household uses the Library, approximately equal proportions of residents said that someone in their household uses the library once per week (28%), 2 to 4 times per month (26%), or once per month (27%).

• Close to 3-in-4 residents polled claim they are using the Library with the same frequency or more frequently than they did a year ago.
  – Residents who claim to be using the Library more frequently, overwhelmingly responded that they use the library at least once per month. In contrast, half of residents who said they use the Library less than they did a year ago say they are currently use the library less than once per month.
  – “Lifestyle changes” was the primary reason given by residents claiming to use the Library both more and less frequently than they did a year ago.
  – When asked to indicate what services the Library could offer that would increase their usage, most residents (36%) replied “none” - they are happy the way it is - or “don’t know,” with one-quarter of residents unable to provide suggestions.

• Residents overwhelmingly responded that they typically use the Thomas Memorial Library to borrow books.
Executive Summary

Contributing to the Library

• As most residents polled believe that the Library receives funding from public sources (e.g., the Town of Cape Elizabeth), it is notable that just one-third report having made a financial donation to the Thomas Memorial Library or the Thomas Memorial Library Foundation.
  – Looking ahead, respondents who use the Library more frequently, those who have made a financial donation in the past, those making $100,000 per year or more, women, and residents with children in the household were more likely to say they would make a donation in the future.
  – Six-in-ten residents surveyed said that whether donations went to support a particular project or to general fundraising efforts would not affect their decision to donate.

• Importantly, more than half the residents polled claim that they would likely support the Library if the organization’s leaders were to document a compelling need to expand in the next five years.
  – Support for expansion is most robust among more frequent patrons, residents who have donated financially in the past, and among residents with children.

• Additionally, when respondents were asked how likely they would be to support several Library upgrades, close to 6-in-10 would support the Thomas Memorial Library’s investment in “children’s facilities,” closely followed by “technology upgrades” and “on-line services.”
  – Support for other tested upgrade concepts was more limited, with a higher proportion of residents saying they would not support the upgrades than would support them.
Report of Findings
Introduction
Background and Objectives

• In order to assess residents of Cape Elizabeth’s attitudes regarding library usage and services currently offered by the Thomas Memorial Library (TML), the Library enlisted the services of Critical Insights— a Portland-based marketing research firm— to execute a cross-sectional survey among randomly selected Cape Elizabeth residents.

• Additionally, the Library expressed interest in identifying support among different groups of residents for proposed investments and expansion efforts.

• Within these broad objectives, the specific informational aims of the research included:
  – Assessment of the attitudes and preferences of residents towards the Library, and the services and amenities it provides;
  – Development of a community profile of TML in terms of evaluating current patterns of library utilization by demographic subgroup, and perceptions of the overall importance of TML to the community as an educational and cultural center in Cape Elizabeth;
  – Identification for current levels of financial giving in the community and awareness of the TML Foundation;
  – Demonstration of support for future investments and expansion efforts;

- The survey instrument was developed by Critical Insights in collaboration with the project team from the Thomas Memorial Library.
- Interviews were conducted by telephone from the Critical Insights Information Center employing the company’s computer assisted telephone interviewing (CATI) system.
- Refusal rates were just 1% overall, indicating that the sample was not tainted by non-response error.
- Data were statistically weighted in order to bring the final sample into appropriate demographic alignment (based upon the proportional distribution of residents in the Town of Cape Elizabeth, using 2006 Census data projections).
  - Results presented in this report are based on weighted data.
Research Findings
General Perceptions of the Thomas Memorial Library
General Perceptions of Cape Elizabeth and Its Library

• Residents appear very satisfied with living in the Town of Cape Elizabeth.
  – This result is robust as close to 9-in-10 residents polled report being satisfied with living in the Town of Cape Elizabeth, and more than one half of those surveyed claiming to be “very satisfied.”
  – Only 3% of those surveyed are dissatisfied with living in the Town of Cape Elizabeth.

• Similar positive feedback is observed with respect to residents’ level of satisfaction with the Thomas Memorial Library.
  – As with satisfaction levels for the Town, 9-in-10 residents report being satisfied with the Library, with over half reporting being “very satisfied.”
  – Not surprisingly, residents who claim that someone in their household uses the Thomas Memorial Library with greater frequency express higher levels of satisfaction for the Library than do residents who claim that someone in their household uses the Library less often (i.e. less than once per month.)
